

Food Resources for Montgomery County Residents

Montgomery County has a variety of food resource programs to serve its residents. Montgomery County Community Action Development Commission (CADCOM) acts as a resource center for food programs throughout the county including food cupboards, farmer's markets, food stamp programs, summer feeding programs and more. You can visit their website at www.cadcom.org or call 610-277-6363.

The Montgomery County Personal Navigator Program connects any county resident to government assistance programs, such as food stamps, and community service organizations at no cost. You may contact the Personal Navigator Program, managed by the VNA Community Services, at their toll free number 1-877-747-7257.

Angel Food Ministries provides low-cost foods for families; there are no eligibility requirements. A box of food which feeds a family of four for one week costs $30.00. There are various locations in Montgomery County that manage this program, please visit www.angelfoodministries.com to find a location near you.

Contact the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare Call-in Change Center toll-free at 1-877-395-8930 to learn about how to apply for benefits, request forms or check on your case status.

It is strongly recommended to call a program before visiting as there may be eligibility criteria you need to meet.
